

The Monroe
Institute

---

Dear Friends & Members,

It is my great pleasure to share with you our Annual Report for 2018. You will see that we accomplished a number of key initiatives proposed by TMI's Board of Directors.

In addition to continuing to deliver exceptional, high-quality experiential programs, the focus in 2018 was to expand our research efforts in collaboration with the University of Virginia's Division of Perceptual Studies, discover new applications for our programs through such research efforts, broaden our reach internationally, and to remain fiscally sound. I am delighted to say that we have accomplished these priorities.

As I reflect on my retirement from The Monroe Institute, I hold profound gratitude for my mentor, stepfather, and first boss, Robert A. Monroe. He gave a priceless gift to me and to millions of others across the globe. His research, books, Hemi-Sync® audio technology, and experiential programs have helped millions attain and use greatly expanded states of consciousness. He developed tools to aid in achieving larger perceptions of reality, including what he termed a "Different Overview."

"Scooter" and Bob circa 1985.

My gratitude also goes out to my mother, Nancy Penn Monroe, whose support and brilliance made it possible for Bob to accomplish all that he did. Thanks to their vision and hard work, along with the support of countless others, we have been conducting consciousness expansion programs and welcoming people to the Institute from all across the globe for four decades, now.

Noted thanatologist Elisabeth Kübler-Ross, MD, is among the thought leaders who were attracted to Bob's work.

In addition to becoming a beloved family friend, she collaborated with Bob and Charles T. Tart, PhD, on the creation of the Going Home series of Hemi-Sync exercises for people in transition.

I had the honor of being Elisabeth's monitor in our lab at Whistlefield Research Labs when she had her first out-of-body experience. Back then, Bob felt it was important to bring subjects in the booth back to normal waking consciousness at 45 minutes. He didn't want to "reel them out too far."

So, at the 45-minute mark of Elisabeth's Focus 12 Free flow exercise, I changed the frequencies, and verbally guided her back to normal, waking consciousness. When she came out of the booth she was as excited as she was furious—excited because she had just had her first OBE, and furious because I had taken her out of such an incredible experience "prematurely!"

Determined to avoid the 45-minute limit in her next session, Elisabeth zipped out of her body and went as far and as fast as she could. When she finally decided to return, she saw Bob and me staring down at her with relief as she lay on the bed in the booth.

That night in the guest house at Whistlefield, Elisabeth experienced a spontaneous deep consciousness shift. She lived the deaths of each of the many patients she had helped move through the last stages of the dying process. Elisabeth would later comment publicly that her life and career were changed forever because of her experiences at "the lab in Virginia."

It is exactly that kind of transformative event, and watching the thousands of others whose lives have also been tremendously and positively changed as a result of our work here at TMI, that fulfills me and my sense of purpose. TMI is a magical, life-changing organization with incredibly talented and dedicated staff, trainers, and volunteers.

Our work is needed now more than ever. Thank you for being a part of making peak, life-enhancing experiences available to people worldwide!

With warmest wishes,

Nancy "Scooter" McMoneagle
President & Executive Director

The cover of this annual report is by Patty Ray Avalon, an artist and residential trainer at The Monroe Institute. One in a series, this work incorporates flowing, forceful, and bold strokes of acrylic paint to create an abstract interpretation of cosmic forces. The paintings allow the viewer to feel and sense what is seen in the cosmic dance of creation through expressionism.

Patty has a BFA and an MFA from Indiana University. She has studied at the Art Institute of Chicago, and the Central School of Art and Design in London. She is a graduate and former faculty member of the Barbara Brennan School of Healing, and a former faculty member of Hollins College, in Virginia. Patty has been a trainer at TMI for 18 years.

She is a professional artist working in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia. She has her artwork in private and public collections around the world and has shown her work in the World Bank in Washington, DC, the US Botanical Garden, The Mellon Foundation, and has had her faux finishing used in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, DC.

THE MONROE INSTITUTE 2018 DONORS

WE THANK ALL of the individuals and institutions that have donated to The Monroe Institute. Without your support we would not have achieved the accomplishments detailed in this report. Because of the generosity of others we are able to conduct research, create innovative programs, and offer scholarships.
